Myra Savant Harris

Myra Savant Harris, RN combines her years of experience in labor & delivery and neonatal ICU with her interest in genetic research and studies and experience in dog breeding to bring you useful information and techniques to help in you with your breeding program. Her seminar will help breeders learn how to get and keep bitches in whelp, deliver puppies safely and keep them alive and healthy. Whether your next litter is your first or your 20th, this seminar will provide invaluable information from conception to delivery and raising healthy puppies. In addition to the seminar, Myra offers for sale her books, DVDs and supplies for whelping and puppy care. Because she is constantly updating the information she provides, this seminar should be of interest even to those who have attended her seminars in the past. Prior attendees have found her seminars to make a remarkable impact on their care and treatment of the bitch in whelp and on the delivery and care of newborn puppies. For more information about Myra, visit her website at www.myrasavantharris.com.
